SENSATIONS FOLLOW LOW ROOSEVELT

POPE.

CATHOLIC FRIENDS OF EX-PRESIDENT WORRY

Declined to Submit to Any Condition Which Would Limit His Freedom.

Rome, April 3.—The audience which it was believed ex-President Roosevelt would have with the Pope on Tuesday next will not take place, owing to the conditions which the Vatican has imposed, and which Mr. Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although the definite negotiations relative to the audience ended before Mr. Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Mr. Roosevelt reached Rome tonight, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends here, who believed that in the meantime the Vatican might change its attitude.

One of the former President's American friends who had been with him in Egypt, came to Rome yesterday, without, however, any authorization from Mr. Roosevelt, and interceded with Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary, in an endeavor to avoid a situation which, as it now stands, has caused a real sensation in Rome, although it was not entirely unexpected. But his efforts were unavailing.

While at Gondoro, in February last Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Ambassador Leishman, saying he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the Pope.

The audience with the King was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the Pope, several telegrams were passed and the negotiations were ended by Mr. Roosevelt refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct, and announcing that an audience with the Pope under the circumstances was now impossible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt while declining to accept any conditions in connection with his audience with the Pope, had neither directly nor indirectly before, during or after the negotiations made or considered any engagements in Rome, except those of an official character, and he actually entered Rome tonight with but two definite engagements, the audience with the King and the dinners to be given in his honor by the municipality.

The history of the negotiations is about as follows:

While at Cairo, Mr. Roosevelt received the following telegram from Ambassador Leishman, dated March 23:

"Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic College, in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you: 'The Holy Father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible.'"

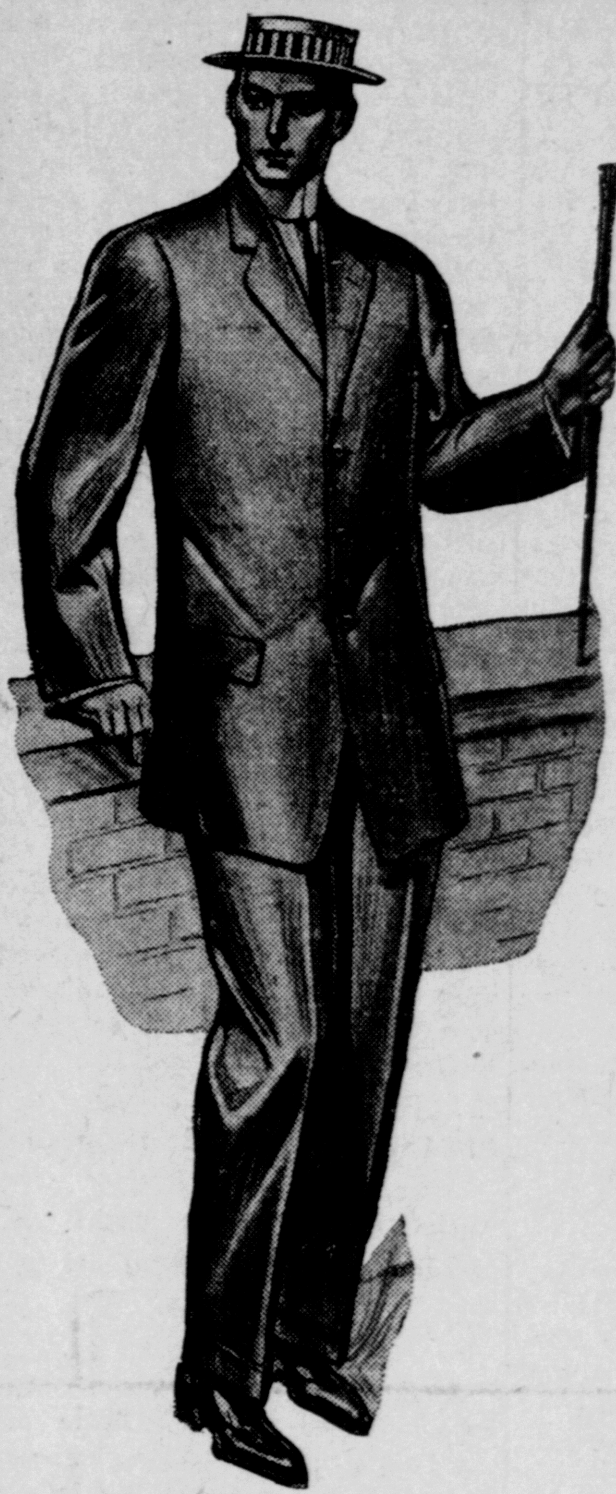

Replying by cable to Ambassador Leishman, on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Please present the following to Monsignor Kennedy: 'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the Holy Father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not to receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him; and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. I, in my turn, must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to receive me.'"

On March 28, Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving a message from Monsignor Kennedy which concluded by saying:

"The audience can not take place, except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

The following day Mr. Roosevelt

COW SMASHES MILK RECORD.

Twenty-Four Pounds of Butter a Week.

Utica, N. Y., April 2.—A cow near Solville, twenty-two miles from this city, has distinguished herself by smashing the world's record in amount of milk and butter production in a seven-day test. Farmer Eugene Lamunion had a cow which was producing milk in such quantities that he had to milk the animal four times a day, so he took advantage of a privilege granted by the state department of agriculture and called upon the department for a test of the cow. A representative of the department and another man from Cornell came, and for seven days they watched the animal, weighing every ounce of food given her. The cow has smashed the world's record. For seven days the cow gave more than eighty pounds of milk each day, and twenty-four pounds of butter during the week. The farmer was offered $2,500 for the cow, but he promptly refused.

Weather Prediction.

Washington, April 3.—Rains will be general throughout the United States during the present week. During the first half of the week, according to the prediction of the weather bureau, an extensive barometric depression will cross the central valleys, the lake region and the Atlantic seaboard, attended by rains. The rain area will be followed by a sharp fall in temperature, which will carry the frost line to or somewhat below the fortieth parallel.

Another disturbance which promise to be attended by general rains will appear on the Pacific coast about Tuesday and advance over the plains south, central valley states, lake region and Atlantic states during the latter part of the week.

ROOSEVELT IS TALK.
Europe Is Aroused Over Coming of Great American.

Berlin, April 2.—Curiosity is being expressed in official circles regarding the etiquette which ought to be observed on the occasion of Colonel Roosevelt's visit to the kaiser. It is asked, how will the exalted personages relish the idea of yielding precedence to a simple citizen and his wife. The entertainment includes a formal banquet at the palace and a formal dinner at the American embassy. At the former the Roosevelts, as the kaiser's personal house guests will not come under the usual rules of court etiquette. Otherwise the former president and his family, who do not possess rank, would be placed at the bottom of the imperial table as German guests and be assigned places in accordance with the rules of court precedence.
At the American ambassadors' dinner the same rules will be applied.
The Roosevelts being regarded as special guests of the kaiser, are outside the rules. Curiosity is keen on another point and that is whether the colonel will refer in his public addresses to national and international topics. His exhortation to the Nationalists in Egypt has been criticised by the Berlin newspapers, which declare that his speeches have not aided the task of the british government in dealing with the aspirations of the natives.

One paper observes that the natives in Egypt are angry because he made the speeches so strongly anti-nationalist, and harm has been done which Great Britain will have trouble in overcoming. This paper says that Col.
Roosevelt burned his mouth, and learned the valuable lesson that in a foreign country that is otherwise charming, candor is not always the right brand.

REVOLUTION SCRAP

Regulars and Insurgents Contest for Honors.
Washington, April 2.—One of the bitterest fights in the history of the Daughters of the American Revolution is expected to take place at the annual congress of the organization, which opens in this city on April 18. All the trouble hinges on the selection of a president-general and the "insurgents" and "regulars" as the opposing factions are called are sharpening their weapons for the fray.
The candidates will undoubtedly be Mrs. Matthews T. Scott, the present incumbent, and regular candidate,
and Mrs. William Cummings Story,
the head of the "insurgent" faction.
A three-cornered fight, however, is likely, as it is reported that Mrs. Mc-Lean, who retired as president-general of the organization last April, will come out again for the office.
Last year when Mrs. McLean withdrew, she supported Mrs. Scott for the office, the latter being known as the administration candidate. The faction opposed to Mrs. McLean and her administration was headed by Mrs.
Story, who made a strong fight for the office and was only defeated by eight votes.
More Confident Now.
This year, however, the insurgents are confident of success. They have been gathering campaign material since last election, and a number of the leading officials have ranged themselves on the side of the insurgents, including Mrs. Mary B. Wilcox, the recording secretary-general, who recently denounced Mrs. Scott in an open letter to the heads of the various chapters throughout the country for the latter's action in discharging one of the clerks in the employ of the national society.
The insurgents are jubilant over this action and will use it as campaign material to discredit Mrs.
Scott's administration. Miss Agnes Gerard, the young lady dismissed by Mrs. Scott, reports every day for duty despite the fact that her salary has been stopped, and has retained an attorney to look out for her interests.
If Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Scott are both determined to be candidates, Mrs. Story, the insurgent leader, will undoubtedly be elected. It is believed however, that an agreement will be reached beforehand and the weaker of the two candidates will withdraw

Session Begins Today—Much Work to Do.
The regular session of county court began this morning and the first case called was Sidney Lane charged with pointing gun at Dr. Cox. Case is with jury.
Duke Stone was appointed special judge in the case of John Blocker and J. B. Rich, charged with cruelty to animals. This case was also with the jury as we go to press.

ALF HUNTER'S EXECUTION TO BE A LARGE CROWD

DROP TO DEATH IN BALLOON

Short Dash in Dirrigible, Ends in a Dreadful Disaster.
Stettin, Germany, April 3.—The German balloon Pommern, which made an ascension here this afternoon, met with a series of accidents which ended in a disaster under most tragic circumstances in the Baltic Sea. Three men lost their lives, including the radical member of the reichstag, Werner Hugo Del Brueck.
Herr Del Brueck and another member of the party were drowned, a third occupant of the car was picked up unconscious and died from his injuries, while the fourth was rescued in a serious condition.
The Pommern, carrying Del Brueck who was acting as pilot, a banker, Herr Sommelhardt; an architect, Herr Benduhn, and a man named Hein, ascended early in the afternoon at the gas works. The wind at the time was blowing a hurricane and the Pommern broke away before she had been completely ballasted.
A chapter of accidents began immediately. The balloon collided with telegraph wires, which broke, almost overturning the basket. It then dashed into the roof of a neighboring factory, destroying the smokestack.
With the basket swaying wildly and half of its rope out, the balloon soared to a great altitude and disappeared in the clouds at a terrific speed. Thousands of onlookers including a detachment of military, which had assisted in the ascent, ran along the roads, expecting the basket to break away. The balloon, however, was not seen again until it reached Swinemunde, 36 miles northwest of Stettin, over which it passed at a height of 6,000 feet, in the direction of the sea.

PLEASED OVER CANNON DEFEAT

Clear for Congressional Aid to Prohibition.
Atlanta, Ga., April 3.—The Anti-Saloon Leaguers are crowing over the "down fall of Speaker Cannon." The result of the recent fight against the Speaker upon the floor of the house means, they declare, a stumbling block out of the way in their fight for federal action favorable to the prohibition movement. This was the view presented at yesterday's conference of the Southern Anti-Saloon League by Dr. P. A. Baker, superintendent of the local organization in an address on the importance of federal legislation.
"I fully believe," said Dr. Baker,
"that under present conditions a bill regulating the movement of liquor in interstate commerce will pass both houses of congress and become a law."
At the morning session of the league J. B. Richards of the Georgia League presented a report which indicated that as a result of probi-bition in this state crime has decreased 60 per cent and business has materially improved.

MAY SPLIT PARTY.

Tariff Question Still Haunts Republicans.
Indianapolis, Ind., April 3.—To prevent a contest on the floor of the Indiana republican convention, which is to be held in this city next Tuesday, over the adoption of a plank in the platform indorsing the Payne-
held here today by the leaders of the party.
United States Senator Albert J.
Beveridge, who voted against the tariff measure, and who is a candidate for re-election, is opposed, it is said, to the convention indorsing the law, but he and his supporters are in favor of passing resolutions declaring in favor of the principle of protection, that being as far as they care to go.
It is authoratively stated that they will carry into the convention, if necessary their fight against a resolution indorsing the Payne-Aldrich measure. To present such an exposure of a factional division in the party, which, it is feared, would have an ill-effect upon the fortunes of the candidates in the state election next November, the republican leaders generally are disposed to avoid in the convention any discussion of the Payne-Aldrich law.
Yet there are several influential leaders who not only believe that President Taft's Administration should be indorsed, but that the Payne-Aldrich bill should be also commended as a step toward fulfillment of the pledge in the platform of the last national republican convention that there should be a downward revision of the tariff schedules.

New York, April 3.—John D. Rockefeller took a two hours' stroll today and had a narrow escape from death or serious injury when he came within an inch of being run down by an automobile. Just as he was in the act of stepping from the curbing at Fifty-Seventh street and Ninth avenue a big touring car swerved swiftly around the corner. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. caught his father by the arm and pulled him back just in time to keep him from being struck by the machine.
The automobile carried a New Jersey license tag and the chauffeur was the only person riding in it.
When the driver saw that Mr. Rockefeller was about to step in front of the machine he screamed out:
"Hey! Watch where you are going!"
Without making any effort to slacken his speed, the chauffeur shot a scornful glance at Mr. Rockefeller as he turned the big automobile into Fifty-Seventh street.

Governor Haskell Has Not Filed His Reasons for Turning Down the Measure.

Guthrie, Ok., April 3.—Gov. Haskell has not filed his reasons for vetoing the new dispensary act passed during the special session of the legislature, and which he took with him upon leaving for Atlanta Thursday night. The bill as offered in the legislature by John and Burnett provided for shipment of confiscated liquors to Guthrie, to be disposed of by the state agent, and for the removal by the governor of officers who refused or failed to enforce the liquor law. Removals were to be based upon petitions filed with the executive by citizens of the locality affected. As amended, however, the removal features were eliminated. The bill included numerous provisions of the Billups bill, offered during the regular session, among them maintaining the state agency only for sale of alcohol to druggists and colleges for pharmaceutical and scientific purposes. The law as to local dispensaries was repealed.

ALF HUNTER'S EXECUTION TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

That Mrs. G. W. Garrison, widow of G. W. Garrison, the Oklahoma county sheriff, who was murdered by Alf Hunter, will witness the execution of her husband's slayer in Watonga Friday, is the opinion of Harvey Garrison, the dead man's son.

"I am not sure if Mrs. Garrison will be present at the hanging of Hunter, as she is in St. Louis," he stated, "but in all probability she will make the trip to Watonga should she return by April 8. I think that the hanging will be also a public one inasmuch as the Watonga jail has not enough space to accommodate the execution. The scaffold, as I understand, has already been erected somewhere in the rear of the jail and although, of course, the surrounding space has been enclosed, I do not think that the local authorities will refuse the request of any Oklahoma county citizens who may desire to witness the execution of the murderer of their former sheriff. I suppose that over 100 people, friends of my father, have called me up and asked if they would be permitted to be present. I shall be there in person."

Many friends of the murdered man, including several deputy sheriffs have definitely announced their intention of going to Watonga and in all probability Sheriff Binion will be one of the party.

The pastor at the First Christian church yesterday spoke to good audiences at both services. The morning sermon was one which quickened the heart beats of every child of God who listened. For some time the church has been without a pastor and this one sermon made all feel at home with Brother Anderson. It seemed to exactly fit the niche—in time, in place, in every manner. It was a strong earnest call for each and every one to give a hand to the work in winning Ada for Christ.

The evening sermon was an impassioned appeal to men to respond to the plea of "The Wounded Hand." Three additions to the Brotherhood resulted. The Disciples at Ada feel that their pulpit has never been honored by a stronger man than Brother Leroy M. Anderson and ask that all interested in the cause of Christ come out to the mid-week services and baptismal ordinance Wednesday evening at 7:45.

CANDIDATES TO ROFF.

A Birthday Dinner.

Brother J. P. Trout, who resides 2 1-2 miles North of Ada, on the 22nd day of March, 1910, gave a dinner to his relatives and friends in honor of his 81st birthday, which was largely attended and immensely enjoyed by all who were there, and there was present about 75. The dinner? Well it was simply fine, it was all that heart could wish.

Brother Trout is one of our best and most substantial citizens. He served in the Civil war as a Confederate Soldier, and is a staunch member of the Missionary Baptist church, his home always stands open for the reception of his friends. He and his good wife know how to entertain you and make you forget the cares of life.

After dinner a short service was conducted by Bros. Nettles of Ada, and Stringer of the New Bethel neighborhood, and who is the Baptist pastor of the Colbert Baptist church. At night the young folks as well as the old gathered in and had a good singing. Harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout.

A friend and brother,
W. H. NETTLES.

$5,000,000 OIL DEAL IS CLOSED

Purchasers Announce That a Pipe Line to the Gulf Will Be Constructed.

Bartlesville, Ok., April 3.—The transaction by which Eastern capitalists recently secured options on the holdings of about twenty Oklahoma oil companies for a Rolland syndicate, today received a message from New York, stating that the contracts had been signed and the deal fully consummated.

The transaction involves over $5,000,000 and some of the best oil lands in the state. The purchasing syndicate announces that a pipe line to the gulf will be constructed shortly. This, if true, gives denial to the current report here that the Standard Oil Company is making the purchase.

FOR AGED PEOPLE.

Old Folks Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age come inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regenerative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward, thus simulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience; do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee: 36 tablets 25c and 12 tablets 10c. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Ada only at our store—The Rexall Store. ## THE CHICKEN AND THE CAR

Not to Speak of the Pony, the Poodle, the Collie and Others Who Were in the Mixup.

A sort of house-that-Jack-built motor case is reported in the Green Bag. It says that as a motor car was passing quietly through a village in New England a chicken pursued by a cat suddenly crossed the road just in front of the automobile.

The sudden dash of the chicken and cat startled a pony, driven by two little girls, one of whom had a poodle in her lap. The poodle jumped out to give chase to the cat and fell on the road right in front of the car, causing its driver to pull up suddenly.

Just as this happened a collie traveling with its mistress in the car leaped out and chased the poodle, which frightened the pony so that it bolted toward the car. Seeing this, the chauffeur drove toward the gutter, but as the dogs were fighting there had to take another course, colliding finally with a stone wall and totally wrecking the machine.

The owner of the car brought an action for damages against the owner of the chicken, claiming that it was responsible for the damage. In giving judgment the court argued that there was no doubt as to the chicken having been the proximate cause of the accident, for had it not crossed the road the cat would not have scared the pony; had the pony not been scared the poodle would not have got out of the pony trap; had the poodle not done so the automobile would not have stopped and the collie and the poodle would not have been in the gutter; had the collie and poodle not been in the gutter the cat would not have hung round to see things through; had the cat not remained on the scene the chicken would not have been trying to scale the wall, and had the chicken not been trying to do this the chauffeur would have kept his nerve and saved the machine from accident.

Yet though the chicken caused the accident the chicken's act was not in itself violent or dangerous. This chicken would doubtless have made a tender broiler; it was gentle and inoffensive, and not being feral nature its destruction of the automobile was unconscious and free from malice. Therefore the chicken not having exceeded its common law rights the action could not be maintained and judgment was accordingly entered for the defendant.

Bribery in Elections.

Bribery, according to an expert on the subject, first became a recognized mode of securing votes in the reign of Charles I. It was afterward improved upon by George III., who lost no opportunity of enforcing its claims as a good gote getter. "If," he wrote to his chief adviser on one occasion, "the duke of Northumberland requires some gold pills for the election it would be wrong not to satisfy him." The king was not altogether selfish in this matter of spending money, for the gold pills came out of his own medicine chest, the civil list, whereas his successors drew upon the secret service cash for the corruption of the voters.

In those days the British constitution worked on the principles of Mr. Quinton Dick, a wealthy West Indian planter, who explained his manner of election thus: "At the last election I spoke to my constituents. 'Gentlemen,' I said, 'my opponent is a very rich man with a large family. I am a very rich man, and I thank God that all I care for in the world is covered by my hat.' I put my hat on my head, and they returned me. That, sir, is the practical working of the British constitution."—London Daily News.

Smuggling Partridge Eggs.

A singular custom of smuggling by means of a dummy baby was brought to light by the city customs officials at northern station in Vienna.

Partridge eggs have for a long time been extensively stolen from preserved estates in Hungary, smuggled into Vienna and sold to poultry dealers, who hatched the eggs in incubators, brought up the birds by hand and sold them below the prices asked by more honest dealers.

A special lookout for smugglers has resulted in the arrest of two peasant women. Arriving in Vienna in the national Slavonian costume, each of them carried a baby tied, according to the invariable custom, to a cushion, and so closely "packed" that only the face was visible.

The women were noticed to be a little agitated as they passed the customs, and they were followed home. It was then discovered that while one baby was a living child the other was a dummy. It consisted of a wax head, partly hidden by a shawl and a cap, while the cushion was filled with more than 600 partridge eggs.

Curiosity Squelched.

At dinner the professor of history was seated between two young ladies, who, in accordance with their training in the art of conversation, sought to draw him out upon the subject in which he was most interested. They did not meet with much success; his answers were short—"Yes," "Oliver Cromwell," "No," "1492," and the like. Finally one of them in desperation ventured:

"Professor, we were wondering only this afternoon, and none of us could remember: How many children did Mary, Queen of Scots, have?"

This was too much. "Madam," said the professor, facing her with squelching dignity, "I am not a scandal-monger."

WOMAN LAWYER NOTHING NEW

Old Records Tell of Case Where One Pleaded Before Court in Ancient Babylonia.

Among the most interesting treasures of the British museum are the clay tablets of ancient Babylonia. These tablets, resembling unglazed tiles, throw quaint lights and shadows on the manners and customs of long ago. Usually the records are fragmentary, but are occasionally fairly complete, as is that of legal proceedings instituted by a "woman of Borsippa," which action is of particular interest as showing that a married woman's property law was in force as early as 550 B. C.

The proceedings to which the "documents" refer were taken by a woman against her brother-in-law to regain possession of property left by her husband. The evidence showed that a man of Borsippa had married the woman from Borsippa, and with the money of her dowry he had bought an estate. After a few years, having no children of their own, they adopted a son, and shortly afterward the husband mortgaged the estate. Later he died, leaving the estate mortgaged, and his brother attempted to claim the property.

The widow took the matter before the court at Borsippa; but it was beyond the jurisdiction of this court and was referred to the high court at Babylon. Here the case was duly heard, and the judges rendered a decision to the effect that, as the property had been the husband's, the widow could have it upon paying off the mortgage, and that the brother had no claim. Eventually, the estate would be the property of the adopted son. It is expressly stated, as though a matter of some interest, that the woman pleaded her own case in the high court of Babylon without assistance.—The Sunday Magazine.

SHOULD NOT READ AT MEALS

Many Reasons Why the Habit is Injurious as Well as Unmanly.

The habit of reading at meals is to be condemned, and more particularly when it has grown to one of actual study, and when the reader endeavors to gain knowledge and to save time at his meals. The solitary reader, if he reads, should only read what is light and amusing. The common practice of having the morning paper at our breakfast table is not especially injurious, as it furnishes items for conversation, and does not particularly exercise the brain, but if it should do so it is advisable to at once discontinue it. Digestion is always best when the physical processes of our frames are left to discharge their work free from nervous trammels. It is on the ground of the elevation of spirits produced by cheerful association with others that pleasant company at meals has always formed a condition of social enjoyment. The stimulus to nervous activity which is thus given acts beneficially on the digestive powers, just as the man who is harassed, worried and excited will not be likely to digest or eat a satisfactory meal.—Family Doctor.

Unwritable English.

"Did you know that there is at least one sentence in English that can be spoken, but that it is impossible to write?" asked a Cambridge university don.

"Yes, it's correct English, I suppose, and then again it isn't. Here is the sentence, although I vow I don't know how you are going to write it: 'There are three twos in the English language.' You see, if you spell two, two, the sentence is incorrect, as it is if you spell it either 'too' or 'to.' Catch the point? Really it is incorrect to say it, although it certainly should be possible to express the thought. This thing has set me going, and it simply goes to show what a tangle the English language is. There certainly is a word 'two' and a word 'too' and another 'to,' and they are all three pronounced alike—two, too, or to—which makes it correct to say: 'There are three twos,' or 'three toos,' or 'three tos' in the English language. But what's the use?"

Would-Be Ciceros Take Notice.

Unless a man can speak offhand, he ought not to engage in the Cicero business. Beyond all things, he should never read his speech from manuscript. It's like a painful of ice-water in the face of an audience. It would be wiser, better, to have it printed in the papers and let the audience read it. In such case, since a wordless Patrick Henry has his home in every breast, each of us would furnish what flash and fire the manuscript-reading "orator" leaves out, and so save the latter's credit while multiplying the weight of his words. This I throw in for the good of those who are to come after, and in the hope of subtracting from what number of rostrum manuscripts are waiting to be read.—Alfred Henry Lewis, in Human Life.

"Aunt Arle."

In one of the districts of southern France a bell is heard to ring on Christmas morning, which announces the arrival of "Aunt Arle," a beautiful being, who is the especial guardian and patroness of children. She is the declared enemy of idleness, and punishes it by some mischievous trick; but those who have behaved well may rejoice on hearing her bell, for it tells them that in some room of the house is to be found a store of presents and delicacies as rewards for good children.

POPE.

CATHOLIC FRIENDS OF EX-PRESIDENT WORRY

Freedom.

Rome, April 3—The audience which it was believed ex-President Roosevelt would have, with the Pope on Tuesday next will not take place, owing to the conditions which the Vatican has imposed, and which Mr. Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although the definite negotiations relative to the audience ended before Mr. Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Mr. Roosevelt reached Rome tonight, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends here who believed that in the meantime the Vatican might change its attitude.

One of the former President's American friends who had been with him in Egypt, came to Rome yesterday, without, however any authorization from Mr. Roosevelt and interceded with Cardinal Merry Del Val the papal secretary in an endeavor to avoid a situation which, as it now stands, has caused a real sensation in Rome, although it was not entirely unexpected. But his efforts was unavailing.

While at Gondoro, in February last Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Ambassador Leishman, saying he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the Pope.

The audience with the King was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the Pope, several telegrams were passed and the negotiations were ended by Mr. Roosevelt refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct, and announcing that an audience with the Pope under the circumstances was now impossible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt while declining to accept any conditions in connection with his audience with the Pope, had neither directly nor indirectly before, during or after the negotiations made or considered any engagements in Rome, except those of an official character, and he actually entered Rome tonight with but two definite engagements, the audience with the King and the dinners to be given in his honor by the municipality.

Monsignor Kennedy rector of the American Catholic College in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you: The Holy Father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible.

Replying by cable to Ambassador Leishman, on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

Please present the following to Monsignor Kennedy: 'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the Holy Father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not to receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. I, in my turn, must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to receive me.'

On March 28, Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving a message from Monsignor Kennedy which concluded by saying:

WOULD AID COOK.

Claims.

New York, April 2—Captain B. F. Osborn of the Arctic Club announced that he had received letters from millionaires offering backing to the extent of more than $1,000,000 for Dr. Fred A. Cook to prove his claim that he and not Commander Peary discovered the north pole.

Captain Osborn said that Dr. Cook had received many offers to take the lecture platform and that he would take up both matters with the explorer when he reaches New York. Dr. Cook is expected here within three weeks.

The report that Dr. Cook is coming here to establish himself at a big hotel is nonsense, said Captain Osborn. He does not want any publicity until he has convinced the world of the wrong that has been done him.

This offer of a million dollars puts us in a position to establish the truth of his claim without a doubt. We have been negotiating with some of the best scientists in the world and several of these will be retained.

We have learned already that on the day Peary says he reached the pole and took observations from the sun there was not enough sun to make it possible.

'I am not at liberty to say where Dr. Cook is now. He is in North America and now in the United States and he will be here in three weeks.'

Weather Prediction.

Washington, April 3—Rains will be general throughout the United States during the present week. During the first half of the week, according to the prediction of the weather bureau, an extensive barometric depression will cross the central valleys, the lake region and the Atlantic seaboard, attended by rains. The rain area will be followed by a sharp fall in temperature, which will carry the frost line to or somewhat below the fortieth parallel.

Another disturbance which promises to be attended by general rains will appear on the Pacific coast about Tuesday and advance over the plains south, central valley states, lake region and Atlantic states during the latter part of the week.

COW SMASHES MILK RECORD.

Utica N. Y., April 2—A cow near Solville, twenty-two miles from this city, has distinguished herself by smashing the world's record in amount of milk and butter production in a seven-day test. Farmer Eugene Lamunio had a cow which was producing milk in such quantities that he had to milk the animal four times a day, so he took advantage of a privilege granted by the state department of agriculture and called upon the department for a test of the cow. A representative of the department and another man from Cornell came, and for seven days they watched the animal weighing every ounce of food given her. The cow has smashed the world's record. For seven days the cow gave more than eighty pounds of milk each day and twenty-four pounds of butter during the week. The farmer was offered $2,500 for the cow but he promptly refused.

TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

That Mrs. G W Garrison, widow of G W Garrison, the Oklahoma county sheriff, who was murdered by Alf Hunter, will witness the execution of her husband's slayer in Watonga Friday, is the opinion of Harvey Garrison, the dead man's son

I am not sure if Mrs Garrison will be present at the hanging of Hunter, as she is in St Louis he stated, "but in all probability she will make the trip to Watonga should she return by April 8 I think that the hanging will be also a public one inasmuch as the Watonga jail has not enough space to accommodate the execution. The scaffold, as I understand has already been erected somewhere in the rear of the jail and although, of course, the surrounding space has been enclosed, I do not think that the local authorities will refuse the request of any Oklahoma county citizens who may desire to witness the execution of the murderer of their former sheriff I suppose that over 100 people friends of my father, have called me up and asked if they would be permitted to be present I shall be there in person"

Many friends of the murdered man, including several deputy sheriffs have definitely announced their intention of going to Watonga and in all probability Sheriff Blinn will be one of the party

The pastor at the First Christian church yesterday spoke to good audiences at both services The morning sermon was one which quickened the heart beats of every child of God who listened For some time the church has been without a pastor and this one sermon made all feel at home with Brother Anderson It seemed to exactly fit the niche—in time, in place, in every manner it was a strong earnest call for each and every one to give a hand to the work in winning Ada for Christ

The evening sermon was an impassioned appeal to men to respond to the plea of The Wounded Hand Three additions to the Brotherhood resulted The Disciples at Ada feel that their pulpit has never been honored by a stronger man than Brother Leroy M Anderson and ask that all interested in the cause of Christ come out to the mid-week services and baptismal ordinance Wednesday evening at 7 45

A Birthday Dinner.

Brother J P Trout who resides 2 1-2 miles North of Ada, on the 22nd day of March, 1910, gave a dinner to his relatives and friends in honor of his 51st birthday, which was largely attended and immensely enjoyed by all who were there, and there was present about 75 The dinner? Well it was simply fine it was all that heart could wish

Brother Trout is one of our best and most substantial citizens He served in the Civil war as a Confederate Soldier, and is a staunch member of the Missionary Baptist church, his home always stands open for the reception of his friends He and his good wife know how to entertain you and make you forget the cares of life

After dinner a short service was conducted by Bros Nettles of Ada and Stringer of the New Bethel neighborhood and who is the Baptist pastor of the Colbert Baptist church At night the young folks as well as the old gathered in and had a good singing Harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout

Brother Trout, we want to say thank you again May the riches of Heaven's blessings attend your pathway through the remaining days

Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age come inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance Otherwise there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward thus stimulating nature in perfect bowel movement.
They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more

THE CHICKEN AND THE CAR

Not to Speak of the Pony, the Poodle, the Collie and Others Who Were in the Mixup.

A sort of house-that-Jack-built motor case is reported in the Green Bag. It says that as a motor car was passing quietly through a village in New England a chicken pursued by a cat suddenly crossed the road just in front of the automobile.

The sudden dash of the chicken and cat startled a pony, driven by two little girls, one of whom had a poodle in her lap. The poodle jumped out to
road right in front of the car, causing its driver to pull up suddenly.

Just as this happened a collie traveling with its mistress in the car leaped out and chased the poodle, which frightened the pony so that it bolted toward the car. Seeing this, the chauffeur drove toward the gutter, but as the dogs were fighting there had to take another course, colliding finally with a stone wall and totally wrecking the machine.

The owner of the car brought an action for damages against the owner of the chicken, claiming that it was responsible for the damage. In giving judgment the court argued that there was no doubt as to the chicken having been the proximate cause of the accident, for had it not crossed the road the cat would not have scared the pony; had the pony not been scared the poodle would not have got out of the pony trap, had the poodle not done so the automobile would not have stopped and the collie and the poodle would not have been in the
been in the gutter the cat would not have hung round to see things through, had the cat not remained on the scene the chicken would not have been trying to scale the wall, and had the chicken not been trying to do this the chauffeur would have kept his nerve and saved the machine from accident.

Yet though the chicken caused the accident the chicken's act was not in itself violent or dangerous. This chicken would doubtless have made a tender broiler; it was gentle and in-offensive, and not being ferus naturae its destruction of the automobile was unconscious and free from malice.
Therefore the chicken not having exceeded its common law rights the action could not be maintained and judgment was accordingly entered for the defendant.

Bribery in Elections.

Bribery, according to an expert on the subject, first became a recognized mode of securing votes in the reign of Charles I. It was afterward improved upon by George III, who lost no opportunity of enforcing its claims as a good gote getter. "If," he wrote to his chief adviser on one occasion,
"the duke of Northumberland requires some gold pills for the election," it would be wrong not to satisfy him."
The king was not altogether selfish in this matter of spending money, for the gold pills came out of his own medicine chest, the civil list, whereas his successors drew upon the secret service cash for the corruption of the voters.

In those days the British constitution worked on the principles of Mr Quinton Dick, a wealthy West Indian planter, who explained his manner of election thus: "At the last election I spoke to my constituents,
'Gentlemen,' I said, 'my opponent is a very rich man with a large family.
I am a very rich man, and I thank God that all I care for in the world is covered by my hat.' I put my hat on my head, and they returned me. That, sir, is the practical working of the British constitution."—London Daily News.

Smuggling Partridge Eggs.

A singular custom of smuggling by means of a dummy baby was brought to light by the city customs officials at northern station in Vienna.

Partridge eggs have for a long time been extensively stolen from preserved estates in Hungary, smuggled into Vienna and sold to poultry dealers, who hatched the eggs in incubators, brought up the birds by hand and sold them below the prices asked by more honest dealers.

A special lookout for smugglers has resulted in the arrest of two peasant women. Arriving in Vienna in the national Slavonian costumes, each of them carried a baby tied, according to the invariable custom, to a cushion and so closely "packed" that only the face was visible.

The women were noticed to be a little agitated as they passed the customs, and they were followed home.
It was then discovered that while one baby was a living child the other was a dummy. It consisted of a wax head, partly hidden by a shawl and a cap, while the cushion was filled with more than 600 partridge eggs.

Curiosity Squelched.

At dinner the professor of history was seated between two young ladies, who, in accordance with their training in the art of conversation, sought to draw him out upon the subject in which he was most interested. They did not meet with much success, his answers were short—"Yes," "Oliver Cromwell," "No," "1492," and the like.
Finally one of them in desperation ventured:

"Professor, we were wondering only this afternoon, and none of us could remember: How many children did Mary, Queen of Scots, have?"

This was too much. "Madam," said the professor, facing her with squealing dignity, "I am not a scandalmonger."

WOMAN LAWYER NOTHING NEW

Pleaded Before Court in Ancient Babylonia.

Among the most interesting treasures of the British museum are the clay tablets of ancient Babylonia.
These tablets, resembling unglazed tiles, throw quaint lights and shadows on the manners and customs of long ago. Usually the records are fragmentary, but are occasionally fairly complete, as is that of legal proceeding instituted by a "woman of Borsippa," which action is of particular interest as showing that a married woman's property law was in force as early as 550 B. C.

The proceedings to which the "documents" refer were taken by a woman against her brother-in-law to regain possession of property left by her husband. The evidence showed that a man of Babylon had married the woman from Borsippa, and with the money of her dowry he had bought an estate. After a few years, having no children of their own, they adopted a son, and shortly afterward the husband mortgaged the estate.
Later he died, leaving the estate mortgaged, and his brother attempted to claim the property.

The widow took the matter before the court at Borsippa; but it was beyond the jurisdiction of this court and
was referred to the high court at Babylon. Here the case was duly heard, and the judges rendered a decision to the effect that, as the property had been the husband's, the widow could have it upon paying off the mortgage, and that the brother had no claim. Eventually, the estate would be the property of the adopted son. It is expressly stated, as though a matter of some interest, that the woman pleaded her own case in the high court of Babylon without assistance.—The Sunday Magazine.

SHOULD NOT READ AT MEALS

Many Reasons Why the Habit Is Injurious as Well as Unman-nerly.

The habit of reading at meals is to be condemned, and more particularly when it has grown to one of actual study, and when the reader endeavors to gain knowledge and to save time at his meals. The solitary reader, if he reads, should only read what is light and amusing. The common practice of having the morning paper at our breakfast table is not especially injurious, as it furnishes items for conversation, and does not particularly exercise the brain, but if it should do so it is advisable to at once discontinue it. Digestion is always best when the physical processes of our frames are left to discharge their work free from nervous trammels. It is on the ground of the elevation of spirits produced by cheerful association with others that pleasant company at meals has always formed a condition of social enjoyment. The stimulus to nervous activity which is thus given acts beneficially on the digestive powers, just as the man who is harassed, worried and excited will not be likely to digest or eat a satisfactory meal.—Family Doctor.

Unwritable English.

"Did you know that there is at least one sentence in English that cannot be written, but that it is impossible to write?" asked a Cambridge university don.

and then again it isn't. Here is the sentence, although I vow I don't know how you are going to write it.
'There are three twos in the English language.' You see, if you spell two,
is if you spell it either 'too' or 'to.'
Catch the point? Really it is incorrect to say it, although it certainly should be possible to express the thought.
This thing has set me going, and it simply goes to show what a tangle the English language is. There certainly is a word 'two' and a word 'too' and another 'to,' and they are all three pronounced alike—two, too, or
to—which makes it correct to say:
'There are three twos, or 'three toos,'
or 'three tos' in the English language.
But what's the use?"

Would-Be Ciceros Take Notice.

Unless a man can speak offhand, he ought not to engage in the Cicero business. Beyond all things, he should never read his speech from manuscript. It's like a pallful of ice-water in the face of an audience. It would be wiser, better, to have it printed in the papers and let the audience read it. In such case, since a wordless Patrick Henry has his home in every breast, each of us would furnish what flash and fire the manuscript-reading "orator" leaves out, and so save the latter's credit while multiplying the weight of his words. This I throw in for the good of those who are to come after, and in the hope of subtracting from what number of rostrum manuscripts are waiting to be read.—Alfred Henry Lewis, in Human Life.

In one of the districts of southern France a bell is heard to ring on Christmas morning, which announces the arrival of "Aunt Arle," a beautiful being, who is the especial guardian and patroness of children. She is the declared enemy of idleness, and punishes it by some mischievous trick;
but those who have behaved well may rejoice on hearing her bell, for it tells them that in some room of the house is to be found a store of presents and delicacies as rewards for good children.

THE STERNOUS AMERICAN WILL
POPE.

CATHOLIC FRIENDS OF EX-PRESIDENT WORRY

Freedom.

Rome, April 3.—The audience which it was believed ex-President Roosevelt would have with the Pope on Tuesday next will not take place, owing to the conditions which the Vatican has imposed, and which Mr. Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although the definite negotiations relative to the audience ended before Mr. Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Mr. Roosevelt reached Rome tonight, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends here who believed that in the meantime the Vatican might change its attitude.

One of the former President's American friends who had been with him in Egypt, came to Rome yesterday, without, however, any authorization from Mr. Roosevelt and interceded with Cardinal Merry Del Val the papal secretary in an endeavor to avoid a situation which, as it now stands, has caused a real sensation in Rome, although it was not entirely unexpected. But his efforts was unavailing.

While at Gondoro, in February last Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Ambassador Leishman, saying he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the Pope.

The audience with the King was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the Pope, several telegrams were passed and the negotiations were ended by Mr. Roosevelt refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct, and announcing that an audience with the Pope under the circumstances was now impossible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt while declining to accept any conditions in connection with his audience with the Pope, had neither directly nor indirectly before, during or after the negotiations made or considered any engagements in Rome, except those of an official character, and he actually entered Rome tonight with but two definite engagements, the audience with the King and the dinners to be given in his honor by the municipality.

Monsignor Kennedy rector of the American Catholic College in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you. The Holy Father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible.

Replying by cable to Ambassador Leishman, on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

Please present the following to Monsignor Kennedy. 'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the Holy Father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not to receive whomever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. I, in my turn, must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to receive me.'

On March 28, Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving a message from Monsignor Kennedy which concluded by saying:

WOULD AID COOK.

Claims.

New York, April 2.—Captain B. F. Osborn of the Arctic Club announced that he had received letters from millionaires offering backing to the extent of more than $1,000,000 for Dr. Fred A. Cook to prove his claim that he and not Commander Peary discovered the north pole.

Captain Osborn said that Dr. Cook had received many offers to take the lecture platform and that he would take up both matters with the explorer when he reaches New York. Dr. Cook is expected here within three weeks.

The report that Dr. Cook is coming here to establish himself at a big hotel is nonsense, said Captain Osborn. He does not want any publicity until he has convinced the world of the wrong that has been done him.

This offer of a million dollars puts us in a position to establish the truth of his claim without a doubt. We have been negotiating with some of the best scientists in the world and several of these will be retained.

We have learned already that on the day Peary says he reached the pole and took observations from the sun there was not enough sun to make it possible.

'I am not at liberty to say where Dr. Cook is now. He is in North America and not in the United States and he will be here in three weeks.'

Weather Prediction.

Washington, April 3.—Rains will be general throughout the United States during the present week. During the first half of the week, according to the prediction of the weather bureau, an extensive barometric depression will cross the central valleys, the lake region and the Atlantic seaboard, attended by rains. The rain area will be followed by a sharp fall in temperature, which will carry the frost line to or somewhat below the fortieth parallel.

Another disturbance which promise to be attended by general rains will appear on the Pacific coast about Tuesday and advance over the plains south, central valley states, lake region and Atlantic states during the latter part of the week.

COW SMASHES MILK RECORD.

Utica, N. Y., April 2.—A cow near Solville, twenty-two miles from this city, has distinguished herself by smashing the world's record in amount of milk and butter production in a seven-day test. Farmer Eugene Lamunon had a cow which was producing milk in such quantities that he had to milk the animal four times a day, so he took advantage of a privilege granted by the state department of agriculture and called upon the department for a test of the cow. A representative of the department and another man from Cornell came, and for seven days they watched the animal weighing every ounce of food given her. The cow has smashed the world's record. For seven days the cow gave more than eighty pounds of milk each day and twenty-four pounds of butter during the week. The farmer was offered $2,500 for the cow but he promptly refused.

Do You Need Money.

Great American.

Berlin, April 2.—Curiosity is being
expressed in official circles regarding
served on the occasion of Colonel
formal dinner at the American embassy. At the former the Roosevelts,
as the kaiser's personal house guests
of court etiquette. Otherwise the former president and his family, who do not possess rank, would be placed
as German guests and be assigned
of court precedence.

At the American ambassadors' dinner the same rules will be applied.
tionalists in Egypt has been criticised

clare that his speeches have not aid-
natives.
One paper observes that the natives
overcoming. This paper says that Col.
right brand.

Honors.

Daughters of the American Revolution is expected to take place at the annual congress of the organiza-
fray.

Mrs. Matthews T. Scott, the present
and Mrs. William Cummings Story,
the head of the "insurgent" faction.
Lean, who retired as president-general of the organization last April,

administration was headed by Mrs.
eight votes.

More Confident Now.

This year, however, the Insurgents
open letter to the heads of the vari-

this action and will use it as cam-
Gerard, the young lady dismissed by
Mrs. Scott, reports every day for duty
ests.

If Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Scott are
both determined to be candidates, Mrs. Story, the insurgent leader, will

to Do.

The regular session of county court
with jury.

the jury as we go to press.

Short Dash in Dilemma, Ends in a Dreadful Disaster.

Sea. Three men lost their lives, in-
reichstag, Werner Hugo Del Brueck.
Herr Del Brueck and another mem-
rescued in a serious condition.

who was acting as pilot, a banker, Herr Sommerhardt, an architect,
Herr Benduhn, and a man named
time was blowing a hurricane and the Pommern broke away before she had been completely ballasted.

factory, destroying the smokestack.
cluding a detachment of military,
reached Swinemunde, 36 miles northwest of Stettin, over which it passed
rection of the sea.

Clear for Congressional Aid to Prohibition.

Saloon Leaguers are crowing over the "down fall of Speaker Cannon." The result of the recent fight against the Speaker upon the floor of the
loon League by Dr. P. A. Baker, su-
federal legislation.

"I fully believe," said Dr. Baker,

At the morning session of the league J. B. Richards of the Georgia League presented a report which indicated that as a result of prohibition in this state crime has de-
materially improved.

licans.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 3.—To prevent a contest on the floor of the
the platform indorsing the Payne-
the party.

United States Senator Albert J.
Beveridge, who voted against the tar-
care to go.

It is authoritatively stated that they
necessary their fight against a resolution indorsing the Payne-Aldrich measure. To present such an expos-
have an ill-effect upon the fortunes
cussion of the Payne-Aldrich law.

should be indorsed, but that the
ment of the pledge in the platform
ward revision of the tariff schedules.

OIL KING'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Is Pushed from In Front of Speeding Auto in Nick of Time.

of stepping from the curbing at Fifty-
by the machine.

The automobile carried a New Jer-
was the only person riding in it.
of the machine he screamed out:
"Hey! Watch where you are go-

as he turned the big automobile into Fifty-Seventh street.

Refinery Doubles Capacity.

Tulsa, Ok., April 3.—The refinery at Chelsea, in the shallow oil field, has doubled its capacity and is now refining 1,200 barrels of crude oil daily. A 35,000-barrel steel storage tank is being added to the equipment of the plant.

TO DEAR LARGE CROWD

That Mrs. G W Garrison, widow of G W Garrison, the Oklahoma county sheriff, who was murdered by Alf Hunter, will witness the execution of her husband's slayer in Watonga Friday, is the opinion of Harvey Garrison, the dead man's son.

I am not sure if Mrs. Garrison will be present at the hanging of Hunter, as she is in St. Louis, he stated, "but in all probability she will make the trip to Watonga should she return by April 8. I think that the hanging will be also a public one inasmuch as the Watonga jail has not enough space to accommodate the execution. The scaffold, as I understand has already been erected somewhere in the rear of the jail and although, of course, the surrounding space has been enclosed, I do not think that the local authorities will refuse the request of any Oklahoma county citizens who may desire to witness the execution of the murderer of their former sheriff. I suppose that over 100 people friends of my father, have called me up and asked if they would be permitted to be present. I shall be there in person."

Many friends of the murdered man, including several deputy sheriffs have definitely announced their intention of going to Watonga and in all probability Sheriff Blinn will be one of the party.

The pastor at the First Christian church yesterday spoke to good audiences at both services. The morning sermon was one which quickened the heart beats of every child of God who listened. For some time the church has been without a pastor and this one sermon made all feel at home with Brother Anderson. It seemed to exactly fit the niche—in time, in place, in every manner. It was a strong earnest call for each and every one to give a hand to the work in winning Ada for Christ.

The evening sermon was an impassioned appeal to men to respond to the plea of The Wounded Hand. Three additions to the Brotherhood resulted. The Disciples at Ada feel that their pulpit has never been honored by a stronger man than Brother Leroy W Anderson and ask that all interested in the cause of Christ come out to the mid-week services and baptismal ordinance Wednesday evening at 7:45.

A Birthday Dinner.

Brother J P Trout who resides 2 1-2 miles North of Ada, on the 22nd day of March, 1910, gave a dinner to his relatives and friends in honor of his 81st birthday, which was largely attended and immensely enjoyed by all who were there, and there was present about 75. The dinner? Well it was simply fine. It was all that heart could wish.

Brother Trout is one of our best and most substantial citizens. He served in the Civil war as a Confederate Soldier, and is a staunch member of the Missionary Baptist church, his home always stands open for the reception of his friends. He and his good wife know how to entertain you and make you forget the cares of life.

After dinner a short service was conducted by Bros Nettles of Ada and Stringer of the New Bethel neighborhood and who is the Baptist pastor of the Colbert Baptist church. At night the young folks as well as the old gathered in and had a good singing. Harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout.

A friend and brother,

A special from Stewart this morning says unknown men entered and robbed the Stewart bank last night and made a get away with $2300. The particulars were not obtained except that they made their successful getaway on a hand car.

$5,000,000 OIL DEAL IS CLOSED

Purchasers Announce That a Pipe Line to the Gulf Will Be Constructed.

Bartlesville Ok April 3.—The transaction by which Eastern capitalists recently secured options on the holdings of about twenty Oklahoma oil companies for a Rolland syndicate, today received a message from New York, stating that the contracts had been signed and the deal fully consummated.

The transaction involves over $5,000,000 and some of the best oil lands in the state. The purchasing syndicate announces that a pipe line to the gulf will be constructed shortly. This if true gives denial to the current report here that the Standard Oil Company is making the purchase.

FOR AGED PEOPLE.

Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance.
physic that is harsh and irritating.

together ideal remedy that is par-
constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We
absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our per-
called Revall Orderlies.

Revall Orderlies are eaten like andy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening tonic and regu-
nature in perfect bowel movement.
convenience, do not cause any grip-ing, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Revall Orderlies

THE CHICKEN AND THE CAR

Not to Speak of the Pony, the Poodle,
the Collie and Others Who Were
in the Mixup.

quietly through a village in New England a chicken pursued by a cat sud-
of the automobile.

cat startled a pony, driven by two lit-

the machine.

been the proximate cause of the accident, for had it not crossed the road
the chicken not been trying to do this
the chauffeur would have kept his
nerve and saved the machine from accident.

offensive, and not being ferocious nature
unconscious and free from malice.
Therefore the chicken not having exceeded its common law rights the action could not be maintained and judg-
defendant.

Bribery in Elections.

Bribery, according to an expert on
mode of securing votes in the reign of Charles I. It was afterward improved
portunity of enforcing its claims as a good vote getter. "If," he wrote to his chief adviser on one occasion,
The king was not altogether selfish in
voters.

In those days the British constitu-
Quinton Dick, a wealthy West Indian planter, who explained his manner of election thus: "At the last election I spoke to my constituents
a very rich man with a large family
I am a very rich man, and I thank God that all I care for in the world
hat on my head, and they returned
don Daily News

Smuggling Partridge Eggs.

A singular custom of smuggling has
tional Slavonian costume, each of
the invariable custom, to a cushion,
face was visible.

The women were noticed to be a lit-
toms, and they were followed home.
a dummy. It consisted of a wax head,
partly hidden by a shawl and a cap,
than 600 partridge eggs.

Curiosity Squelched.
At dinner the professor of history
was seated between two young ladies,
answers were short—"Yes," "Oliver Cromwell," "No," "1492," and the like.

ventured
"Professor, we were wondering
could remember how many children
did Mary, Queen of Scots, have?"
This was too much. "Madam," said the professor, frowning her with squelch-
monger."

WOMAN LAWYER NOTHING NEW

cient Babylonia.

Among the most interesting treas-
clay tablets of ancient Babylonia.
These tablets, resembling unglazed
on the manners and customs of long
ago. Usually the records are frag-
interest as showing that a married
early as 550 B C.

The proceedings to which the "doc-
her husband. The evidence showed
bought an estate. After a few years,
the husband mortgaged the estate.
Later he died, leaving the estate mort-
gaged, and his brother attempted to claim the property.

was referred to the high court at
cision to the effect that, as the prop-
woman pleaded her own case in the high court of Babylon without assistance.—The Sunday Magazine

SHOULD NOT READ AT MEN'S

Many Reasons Why the Habit is In-

at our breakfast table is not especial-
conversation, and does not particularly exercise the brain, but if it should do so it is advisable to at once discon-
spirits produced by cheerful association with others that pleasant com-
stimulus to nervous activity which interferes with the digestive powers, just as the man who is harassed and excited will not be likely to digest or eat a satisfactory meal.—Family Doctor

Unwritable English.

be spoken, but that it is impossible to write?" asked a Cambridge university
don.

know how you are going to write it.
language.' You see if you spell two,
is if you spell it either 'too' or 'to'.
be possible to express the thought.
simply goes to show what a tangle
the English language is. There certainly is a word 'two' and a word 'too',
to—which makes it correct to say
or 'three tos' in the English language.

Would-Be Ciceros Take Notice.

ought not to engage in the Cicero busi-
script. It is like a painful of ice-water
save the latter's credit while multi-
rostrum manuscripts are waiting to be read.—Alfred Henry Lewis, in Hu-

"Aunt Arle"

Christmas morning, which announces the arrival of "Aunt Arle," a beautiful being, who is the especial guardian
ishes it by some mischievous trick,
delicacies as rewards for good children.
